

The image shows a software interface for creating heraldic shields. On the left, a grid of various shield shapes is displayed, including simple rectangles, diamonds, and more complex heraldic shapes. The top of the interface has a toolbar with icons for different tools and actions. On the right, there are three main panels: 'Formats', 'Image', and 'Repères'. The 'Formats' panel includes sections for 'Position' (X: 120 pixels, Y: 112 pixels), 'Dimensions' (L: 600 pixels, H: 856 pixels, with a 'conserver proportions' checkbox), and 'Rotation' (Angle: 0). The 'Image' panel has an 'Echelle' section (L: 100%, H: 100%, with a 'conserver proportions' checkbox) and an 'Appliquer' button. The 'Repères' panel shows options for 'Intégral', 'Masque', 'Dessin', 'Image', 'Contours', and 'Couleurs'. Below these panels is a toolbar with various icons for editing and applying the shield. At the bottom, there is a list of active shields, with 'lion flandres' and 'Ecu' checked.
